

6516207561.txt

xm's ability to broadcast local services should not be limited and local broadcasters should have no say as to xm's programming. xm is a valuable alternative to the big broadcasters who frankly meet the needs of the local markets less and less. Also, local broadcasters signals are far inferior to xm and are much more difficult to listen to and use. xm's ability to provide this content must be preserved.